

Kristen Krick was a devote dance student for 20 years in the disciplines of ballet, jazz, contemporary, tap and hip hop. She has been a member of ISDA since its creation and is now a manager at the studio.

Kristen graduated from the University of Davis with her Bachelor's degree in Biological Sciences and is currently an engineering and architectural drafter. She is also the leader in directing and preparing ISDA's Dance the Magic Disney trips, having performed with the team on seven occasions herself.

Her technical and artistic abilities have led to the studio's growth and bringing up further prepared dancers as they depart to college, teaching or the professional performance realm.

Kristen has done extensive research into properly preparing ballet dancers for the Youth American Grand Prix (YAGP). This session would open a dancer's eyes to the opportunities that can be presented going into a professional career.
