

Lexus Williams (Lexi) is a dancer from Cameron Park, CA. She is 27 years old and extremely passionate about teaching the youth. Teaching kids the fundamentals of dance and building their confidence is what she lives for. Some recent work she has done is with performance painter, David Garibaldi. She was given the opportunity to perform at a Green Bay Packers half time show, Raiders Halftime Show, and the Carolina Panthers half time show. She also was a part of Garibaldi's "Art Life Live Tour" and "Art and Technology Tour". She also performed at the California State Fair with Zendaya years ago. In August 2017 she returned from Europe from performing at Festival United. Last, but not least, she is on a team in Sacramento called the Warriors of Rhythm and teaches regularly in El Dorado Hills. Dance has always been a part of Lexi's life and she loves to now share it with the youth and help encourage them follow their dreams.

Lexi's dance style is musicality-based hip hop. She is trained in both hip hop and contemporary, sometimes fusing the two disciplines together. She also incorporates freestyle/improvisation into her choreography and classes.
